'round town

with Betty Allen...

The weather has been a topic considerably discussed lately and I am still mad. It was no fun to have first-time visitors to California and then have to go around muttering "unusual, unusual" all the time.

The carvings on display in the Press Office are attracting a great deal of attention and Claude Prichard should be hiding in the corner to hear some of the compliments that go floating about.

Did you hear about Ray Mathis and Henry Jewel running out of gas some distance out in the country in the wee small hours of the morning? They had what they thought was a wonderful idea—they were going to call up all their friends, one at a time of course, explain their dilemma and lure them all out there. The thought of buying them all ham and eggs for breakfast finally deterred them and they sat grimly in the car until the nearest farm house showed lights.

A note from Dr. and Mrs. Merrill tells how much they are both enjoying the Campbell Press, and also that their address is now 12038 Emelita Street, North Hollywood. Dr. Merrill says they are both getting a good rest, but they probably aren't too tired to read some letters from Campbell.

When you are calling San Jose and get annoyed at the long delay, remember that San Jose has the largest manually operated switchboard in the world and is now handling more calls per day than were handled in San Francisco during the week of Pearl Harbor. It is estimated that it will be another year before dial equipment will be available for installation. That long delay in Campbell calls is due to overloaded boards, too.

It seems, according to "Looking Back" there was talk of incorporation 40 years ago. Maybe there was too much talk and not enough action.

Next week, The Press resumes its Thursday publishing day.

Mrs. Flo Wetzel, Harrison Ave., has as her guest for an extended visit, Mrs. Paul Mears of Atica, Kansas.

Battlefield To Golf Course

Frank L. Dardanelli, M. M. 3/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dardanelli, who is serving as a member of the Seabees in the 8th Naval Construction Battalion in Japan, is taking part in the making of a golf course which was formerly a battlefield. The new 18-hole golf course, which may some day challenge the better greens of the world, will soon rise on a site which only 18 months ago was the scene of battles. Japanese prisoners of war are doing the work under the supervision of the construction battalion.

The project involves clearing 350 acres of brush and swamp land. The course, which will be known as CinPac Hills Golf Course, follows the natural terrain and parellels a large ravine a half mile from the former headquarters of Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific in this war.

The contours of the ravine lend themselves to excellent natural traps. The Fonte River is a water hazard to try the skill and patience of GI sportsmen. Shrubbery and jungle growth vary the monotony of hill and dale and will be natural absorbers of random golf balls.

In constructing the fairways, parties have encountered numerous Jap pill boxes and block houses. These are being demolished and the terrain landscaped. The 13th hole is a honeycomb of open foxholes and barbed wire entanglements, which have not yet been destroyed. Eventually the entire course will be finely sodded and conditioned by a greens committee.

Trees are being felled for future fairways with straightaways from tee to green, but not one more tree than necessary will be destroyed as it is desired to keep the natural beauty of the surroundings.

Two club houses, one for officers, and the other for enlisted men and their families, will include facilities for clothing change, showers and spaces for storage of equipment.

Wrong Address Causes Untold Trouble

There was a considerable amount of confusion over the small fire which broke out in the oil stove at the Cheerio Corners' Grocery Saturday morning about 9 o'clock. Instead of calling the Campbell department, the San Jose fire department was called and they in turn called Alma and Burbank before giving the call to Campbell. When the Campbell department was finally notified the address was given only as a number on Winchester Road with no south or north so one engine went south on Winchester and the other north, but since no one hailed the engines they were unable to find the fire and returned. Luckily the employees of the grocery were able to extinguish the fire.

The fire department requests that more explicit directions be given over the phone and in cases of doubt that someone step out and hail the firemen or direct them.

New Year's Baby

Campbell has the distinction of claiming the second baby in the county to greet the New Year, for a boy was born at 1:08 a. m. at the San Jose Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Norma Houge of Rte. 1, Box 73.

Therese Robillard Married To George Kirby

One of the loveliest mid-winter weddings took place in St. Lucy's church at 10:30 a. m., Dec. 15, with Father Reali officiating at high mass, when Miss Therese Robillard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Robillard, became the bride of Mr. George E. Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denis Kirby, Albion, New York.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with a wedding veil which had been worn by her sister, Mrs. Robert Easton (Edna Harnish) at her wedding in August. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with an orchid center.

Mrs. Robert Easton was her sister's matron of honor and wore a gown of pale yellow, carrying a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. James Hardigan, the former Miss Carol Weeks, and Miss Jeane Smily were the bridesmaids in gowns of pale pink and pale blue. They also carried white chrysanthemums which harmonized with the large baskets of chrysanthemums decorating the church.

Serving as best man was Mr. Robert Easton with Dr. M. Bennett and Mr. Ray DeMartini as ushers. Little Miss Sharon Fossum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Fossum, was ring bearer. Miss Josephine Barbano sang at the rites.

Following the ceremony a large reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on West Campbell Ave. Among the out-of-town guests present for the wedding was Mrs. Denis Kirby, mother of the bridegroom, who is making an extended visit here.

The newly-weds had a wedding trip to Carmel, from which they are expected home this week. The bride, who graduated from the Campbell High school, is a cadet nurse at the County Hospital and will finish in August after which the young couple will make their home in Albion, New York.

An honorably discharged corporal, the bridegroom saw service in an anti-aircraft unit in the Aleutians and in Germany. He met his bride when both of them were attending the Albion High school in Albion.

A sister of the bride, Miss Dorothy L. Harnish, who is a Wave stationed in Washington, D. C., was unable to attend the wedding.

Ag Extension Service Offers Advice To Growers

Brown rot in apricots, peaches, and the Drake almonds is more abundant in years of plentiful rainfall just before and during the blooming period. Judging by recent weather, this may be a season to be on guard for brown rot, says Farm Advisor L. C. Barnard.

Brown rot may kill many twigs and spurs, and cankers and scars are produced on the branches. Mummies, dead spurs, and cankers are sources of spreading the fungus spores which break out early in the spring in the form of little, gray, dusty tufts.

During the fall and winter remove and burn or bury all mummies and dead twigs. Where the disease is serious, spray with bordeaux mixture 8-8-50 in the red-bud stage just before the white petals show. If the infection is very bad spray again before fall with a 5-5-50 strength. Too early and too late spraying are equally useless. If control methods are properly carried out every year, there will be less trouble in wet years when it is difficult to spray at the right time.

The subject of brown rot and many other deciduous fruit problems will be discussed in detail at an all-day deciduous fruit growers meeting to be held in Room B, Civic Auditorium, San Jose, on Friday, Jan. 18. A corps of university specialists will co-operate with the local office of the Agricultural Extension Service on that date to bring Santa Clara County growers all the latest information, states L. C. Barnard. Growers should mark the date on their calendar and plan on attending.

Grammar School PTA

The Grammar school PTA will hold its first meeting of 1946 on Jan. 8 at 2:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. Mrs. Rex Fuller is making the arrangements for the meeting with Mrs. W. F. Grattan as chairman.

Taxpayers' Assn. Makes Report

Assessed value of taxable property in Santa Clara County this year averages $895 for each of the 229,000 people estimated to be in the county of Jan. 1, 1946, California Tax payers' Association stated today, making public its study of assessed valuations in California counties. Total assessed value of property in the county for 1945-46 is $205,055,945.

Taxable property in the county averaged $914 for 219,000 people for 1944-45, when assessed valuation reached $200,241,705.

For 1940-41, the per capita assessed valuation of the county was $903 for 176,300 people and a total valuation of $159,127,190.

Throughout the state, assessed value of taxable property this fiscal year averaged $923 for each of the 9,250,000 estimated to be in the state at Jan. 1, 1946; total valuation for 1945-46 is 8,541,172,363. For 1944-45, taxable property valuations averaged $927 per person, for the 8,917,000 people in the state; total valuation last year was 8,267,099,366. For 1940-41, taxable property averaged $1010 for 7,070,000 people, with the total valuation at $7,138,621,257.

Property values for tax purposes in most California counties are increasing, but in many areas not as fast as the population is growing," the Taxpayers' Association said, pointing out that the war almost stopped private building. "Resumption of private building, both residential and business, will help the valuation of property to catch up with the growth in population."

We encounter many setbacks and other discouraging incidents on our slow trek toward the goal of world brotherhood. But now and then something occurs to perk up our spirits and renew our faith in the possibility of real cooperation between rival, if not hostile, territories. One of those incidents has just occurred: The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors has endorsed San Francisco as the candidate for the permanent headquarters of the United Nations Organizatino.—Redwood City Tribune.

These are the days when new calendars are "bustin' out all over".

They come in all sorts of designs, colors and sizes, adorned by pictures of placid lakes, shady lanes, pretty girls, smiling babies—or what have you?

But if you don't get a 1946 calendar there's no need to worry. All you have to do is to look up the calendar for 1901. Believe it or not, you will find it identical to 1946.

At the end of 1946, if you put the calendar away in the moth balls it will also be exactly right to use in 1957, 1963, 1974, 1985, and 1991.

How come? Search us. Just looks like Father Time repeats himself every now and then.

Lantz Due Home

Expected home today are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lantz and their small child who have been living in Missouri while Corp. Lantz was an instructor at Camp Crowder. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert N. Lantz, N. 2nd St., the discharged corporal will resume his ranching activities.

Holiday Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Blaine, accompanied by their small son, Allan, visited in Salinas and King City during the holidays.

FINDING MEN FOR FEDERAL JOBS

WASHINGTON. — Few people realize it but President Truman spends a lot of time these days trying to persuade people to take important federal appointments.

An illustration was the tussle he had with an astute 40-year-old Wilson Wyatt, mayor of Louisville, Ky., just appointed federal housing czar.

Wyatt was first offered just about every job in the book. Postmaster General Hannegan tried to get him to serve on the important civil aeronautics board, also to accept the job Jim McGranery wants to resign as assistant to the attorney general, one of the key spots in the justice department.

The civil aeronautics board job really tempted Wyatt, and he asked for a few days to think it over. Next day he got a phone call.

TRUMAN PLEADS

"This is the President calling," said a voice at the other end of the phone.

"Mr. President, I've been thinking," Wyatt said, "and I'm afraid I'm going to have to turn down that civil areonautics job."

"That's swell," replied the President. "I have a more important job for you. Please come back here right away."

Next day Wyatt appeared at the White House, where Truman told him about the tough job of coordinating housing.

"I consider this housing situation the most important problem confronting the country today," explained the President. "If we don't solve this one, we'll really be in trouble in a year and a half."

"But, Mr. resident," said Wyatt, "I'm afraid I can't afford a federal job. I want to go back home and practice law. I need the money."

"I know you want to go back to your law practice," Truman said. "I know you want to make some money. But I don't like being President either. However, I feel I have to do it, so I'm doing it."

Then, staring at Wyatt sharply, he said, "How can I do a good job if fellows like you aren't willing to come up here and help me?"

This made a deep impression on Wyatt. Next day he called at the White House for five minutes. Walking into the executive office, he said, "Mr. President, I've come in to surrender."

Ordinarily it is the work of a cabinet officer to tender a man a job. But now Truman finds he has to phone men personally and beg them to work for the government. The other day, Truman, who resents criticism of his numerous Missouri appointments, told one visitor:

"People complain about all these these Jackson County (Kansas City) appointments. But whenever I try to appoint someone else, they are too busy making money. At least the Jackson County boys are willing to take the jobs."

NOTE — Actually most top federal appointees can get jobs paying twice as much outside the government. Wyatt received only $5000 a year as mayor of Louisville, could be making $50,000 a year practicing 'aw.

IKE'S FIRST SENATE SESSION

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower went over big at his first meeting as chief of staff with members of the Senate military affairs committee. It was an off-the-record affair, for which the senators went across the Potomac to Eisenhower's office in the Pentagon building for luncheon.

Sitting over coffee and French brandy which he had just brought back, Eisenhower spoke frankly about Soviet Russia and other matters, including co-operation with Congress in running the army. Discussing his experiences as the chief U. S. representative on the Allied commission in Germany he declared:

"If the American people had a chance to study the Russians at close range, and vice versa, I am certain there would be a fine mutual understanding and respect between the two peoples. I rubbed elbows with Marshal Zhukov and others and have a high regard for them. We enjoyed splendid co-operation. I was always able to get along with them.

"What most people don't realize is that the Russians are a good deal like us. They enjoy life like we Americans, are full of fun and have a fine sense of humor."

The general said he held no fears about future amicable relations between our own country and Soviet Russia. There will have to some give-and-take in our relations, he said, but eventually things will work out well.

Regarding his own relations with Congress, Eisenhower declared:

"This is a people's army and I intend to run it like one, along democratic lines and in close accord with Congress. I am especially anxious to get along with the military affairs committees of both houses."

Many To Be In Service Industry

California, if it keeps pace with the estimated national upswing in living standards will by 1947 have approximately 2,108,041 of its working population of 3,131,228 employed in service industries, as distinguished from manufacturing and agriculture, according to an analysis of re-employment trends made public today.

Approximately 733,711 will be engaged in manufacturing, mining and construction, and 289,476 in farming in the state, said John E. Haines, who has just completed the survey for Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company.

The service industries include such currently hard-to-find folks as automobile, appliance and radio repairmen, laundry and domestic workers, sales help and heating plant maintenance men.

Haines pointed out that economists recognize a definite correlation between a steady increase in employment in the service industries and a nation's rising standard of living.

"For example, in 1880, the United States had only 25 per cent of its working force in service industries," Haines said. "Through the years the proportion has shifted steadily. In 1920, the national figure was 39.4 per cent; in 1930, 47.2 per cent, and in 1940, 51.3 per cent. Manufacturing in 1940 employed 30 per cent of the work force and agriculture 18.7 per cent."

Haines cited three factors which he said will bring about further increases in the service industries field during the next few years:

1. Necessity of restoring and enlarging the number of outlets in sales and service occupations, greatly depleted during the war.

2. Introduction to the mass market of large number of products and devices which involve customer education as well as product installation and maintenance.

3. The normal increase in the growth of service occupations to keep pace with population growth and also with the upcurve in living standards.

In order to build up depleted ranks of service workers, such organizations as General Motors, Minneapolis - Honeywell, General Electric and Servel, Inc., have accelerated activities of their free training courses since V-J day, it was stated. Associations like the American Institute of Laundering and the Oil Heat Institute of New England also are sponsoring broad educational programs.

Fiesta Revue To Play in San Jose

The "Mexico City Fiesta Revue", featuring the Hermanas Padilla, famous ranchera singers; Maclovia Ruiz, Flamenco dancer; Los Juchitecos, comic dancers; Julian Oliver, XEW radio tenor; Sabrosita, bolera songstress; and others, come to the San Jose Civic Auditorium Monday night, Jan. 7, for one night only.

This is the third event of the series, which has included Miguel Lerdo d Tajada's "Tipica Revue" and "A Night in Havana".

The Mexico City "Fiesta Revue" comes here direct from Mexico City. Gay and colorful fiesta numbers of Guadalajara, Cazaca, Taxco Puebla, Tehauntepec, Tatxauaro and Yucatan, are introduced in the Mexico City "Fiesta Revue" all magnificently costumed.

This will be the first appearance of the Hermanas Padilla in San Jose for over a year. They offer several new songs as well as "Ay Jalisco", "Cacula", "Las Tarzanes" and other favorite numbers which they popularized on Victor records.

It also marks the return of Maclovia Ruiz, former prewar dancer of Spanish roles with the San Francisco Opera Ballet. She scored an outstanding hit in previous San Jose productions.

Los Juchitetecos, comedy dancers who were acclaimed last October with Migual Lardo d Tejada's "Tipica Revue", contribute "Jerungos", "Los Viejites", "Tshumitspec", "Jara Chispenscus" to the program.

Julian Oliver was leading tenor with the San Carlo Opera Company for many seasons in "Carmen" and "The Barber of Seville".

Vets and Strikes

Disqualifications of veterans from receiving unemployment insurance under provisions of the "G. I." bill will not be assessed in the event the veteran refuses to cross a picket line, provided the veteran is not a member of the striking union or participating directly in the strike.

This announcement was made today by James G. Bryant, chairman of the California Employment Stabilization Commission, who said he had received word from Washington to this effect.

Picketing, Bryant said, would be considered as participating in a strike, and if a veteran who is not a member of the striking union is on a picket line, he would be disqualified from receiving unemployment insurance.

Bryant's announcement followed inquiry in Washington concerning administration of veterans unemployment insurance by the California Department of Employment, which handles veterans claims. None of the insurance paid veterans, however, is taken from the California unemployment insurance fund.

The information from Washington, Bryant said, is as follows:

"Veterans who are not members of the striking union or who do not belong to the grade or class of workers participating or directly interested in the trade dispute will not be disqualified under the "G. I." bill for refusing to cross picket lines unless otherwise participating in the strike."

Rice Family Have Gathering

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rice and their four children and their families were one of the groups gathered together for the Christmas holiday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rice on Winchester Road. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burke (Lois Rice) were present from Vallejo; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Quirke (Clara Rice) with their two boys, James and John, came from San Jose; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rice Jr., with their three children, Robert, Shirley and William John, of Campbell, completed the family group.

Babies Arrive

Among those babies who arrived in time to celebrate Christmas were Elizabeth Mary, born Dec. 19 at O'Connor Sanitarium, to Mr. and Mrs. John Leary, 74 Empey Way, and baby Raymond Paul, also born at O'Connor Sanitarium on Dec. 19, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wehunt, 131 N. First St.

Convention Bureau In Pre-War Form

With the end of the war, the San Francisco Convention and Tourist Board announces it is actively reconverting its facilities to peacetime operation. Facilities for servicemen, however, will continue as long as soldiers and sailors are being deployed through the city.

Throughout the war, the bureau kept its peacetime functions in mind through distribution of 150,000 greeting cards and 410,000 pictorial letterheads. Now it is surveying the transportation, hotel and restaurant situation, with a view to the 29 national and regional conventions already scheduled for 1946, and the many more still to be announced.

In spite of present continued congestion and scarcity of accommodations, improvement is expected as the year progresses. All railroads will route their troop-carrying passenger trains to San Francisco in January, and 3,000,000 servicemen and women are expected to pass through the city by the end of June. However, the Southern Pacific Railroad says that after April 1 it will be "actively looking for passengers."

Similar improvement is looked for in the now congested hotel and restaurant situation. Largest 1946 convention so far scheduled is that of the American Medical Association in July.

New Year's Eve Party

One of the gayest New Year's Eve gatherings was a large no-host party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Budd Levenberg, San Jose-Los Gatos Road, in which more than twenty couples joined.

Men possessed with an idea cannot be reasoned with.—Froude.

So You Would Like a Family Orchard

Thought of planting a family orchard and vineyard is often discouraged by the variety of things with their varying habit of growth and fruiting. All this requires much knowledge of fruits and vines, thinks the one who would have a home orchard.

The Agricultural Extension Service has attempted to help the beginner who hesitates for the above reason. "Home Fruit Growing in California', an extension publication by W. L. Howard, was prepared specially for the amateur suburbanite or ruralite. It answers the questions what to plant, care and management, soils. It describes varieties of deciduous and citrus fruits, berries, grapes, and dwarf fruit trees for the home garden. It's 76 pages are well illustrated.

For the assistance of those who wish to plant a family orchard the local office of the Agricultural Extension Service, 201 Post Office Bldg., San Jose, will supply one of these publications for the asking, free of charge.

Mrs. Horn Has 80th Birthday

Mrs. Eva Grattan entertained members of the family and close friends at a birthday dinner in honor or her mother, Mrs. Nora A. Horn, who celebrated her 80th birthday Dec. 27.

Among those attending were Mrs. Horn's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horn and their daughter, Ruth, of Richmond, California; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Horn and their daughters, Linda and Judy, of San Francisco; Mrs. J. Slaughter and her daughter, Barbara, of Fresno; and the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Horn of Oakland.

All our dignity lies in our thoughts.—Pascal.

Bond Sales Continue

Sale of stamps and Victory Bonds, to be known henceforth as U. S. Savings Bonds, will continue permanently following completion of the current Victory loan, it was announced today by W. W. Crocker, chairman of the Northern California War Finance committee.

There will be, however, no more "drives" or quotas.

Savings bonds and stamps will continue to be sold at banks, post-offices, schools, plants and firms making payroll deduction facilities available to employees, and other issuing agencies.

Mr. Crocker said the government's decision to continue payroll-savings facilities was made following the receipt of many thousands of requests for its continuance by both management and labor.

The U. S. Savings Bonds will be identical in denomination and interest-bearing rates to the popular "E" Bonds, now held by more than 90 million Americans.

Large Christmas Gatherings

Among those who entertained large groups of family and friends during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Budd Levenberg who had as their guests Mrs. Lorreta Noei, her daughter Jocelyn, Miss Lillie Mae Fairbanks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd, Mrs. Charles Persons and her son, Cappy, all of San Francisco; and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Steele with their children, Bernadette, Thomas and Don, of Fresno.

Milk Bottles Needed

An estimated total of 10,000,000 glass bottles have been withdrawn from circulation in the three Pacific Coast States, the dairymen report, and the glass industry is unable to make up the shortage, due to conditions caused by the war.

They are earnestly urging housewives to search their kitchens, storerooms, attics, garages, lots and all other places where milk bottle may have been mislaid, and return them immediately to their milk deliveryman or grocer.

Signs of Progress

During the past month, three noteworthy events occurred, to further identify Santa Clara County as an industrial entity. First, the Monarch Match Company, manufacturers of book matches announced the purchase of industrial acreage just south of San Jose, on the Monterey Road. Construction is already underway, and within a very few months, the plant will be in operation.

Second, the Liqua-Zone Company, soap manufacturers, now established in temporary headquarters on South First St., have acquired a location near the new match company, and are proceeding with the construction of a new, modern plant.

Third, according to the San Francisco Chronicle of Tuesday, Nov. 4, plans are underway to double the size of the recently erected Clapp Baby Foods plant. Expansion, after such a short period, must indicate definite approval of the manufacturing advantages San Jose has to offer.

Take Care Of Sewing Machine

During the cold months the sewing machine, like other machines, runs a little bit harder than during warm weather. Before undertaking any sewing, it is a good plan to clean the machine, remove lint and dust, and give the machine a thorough oiling.

The book of directions which comes with the sewing machine should be followed. If this is not available, send for the circular entiled "Care of the Sewing Machine", which has been prepared by Ethelwyn Dodson, specialist in clothing of the Agricultural Extension Service, University of California.

This circular gives directions for the daily care of the sewing machine when it is in constant use and for periodical cleaning once or twice a year. The circular states that most sewing machines, new or old, are built to give many years of satisfactory use, providing the machine is kept clean and oiled, and necessary adjustments are made. On the back of the circular there is a trouble chart, stating common troubles and possible causes. A slight adjustment may make the difference between poor and good stiching.

You may have one of these circulars at no cost by calling on the home demonstration agent at the Agricultural Extension Service office, 201 Post Office Building, San Jose, or call Columbia 2866.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

The subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for January 6th is "God." The Golden Text is taken from Revelation: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty" (1:8).

One of the Bible citations in the sermon reads, "Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite" (Psalms 147:5). A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy reads, "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God" (p. 275).

Skating Vanities At S. F. Aud

Ann Manning, Skating Vanities of 1946.

Eight lavish major production numbers and 30 all-star variety acts packed into two and one-half hours of thrills, glamour, laughter and music, is the novel surprise package awaiting audiences during the 15-day engagement of the $250,000 Broadway extravaganza, "Skating Vanities of 1946", starting January 16 at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium.

Gorgeous costumes and settings, graceful solo and intricate chorus dance presentations, side-splitting comedy acts, acrobatics, speed and exhibitions of near-impossible feats combine to establish "Skating Varieties" as the world's greatest skating spectacle.

Lovely Gloria Nord, acknowledged queen of America's skating ballerinas, heads a cast of 125 talented performers, in the colorful Fanchon and Marco production. Glamorous Gloria, who has appeared in several motion pictures, is starred in three of the major numbers, "Exquisite Plumage", "Chopin Moods" and "A Very Merry Widow."

Miss Gateson starred on Broadway in such musicals as "Her Soldier Boy", "For Goodness Sake" with Fred and Adele Astaire, and in "Love Letters" with John Charles Thomas. Movie goers in Campbell have two special treats this week in "Frisco Sal" and "Duffy's Tavern", coming to the Campbell Theater.

"Duffy's Tavern" brings to the screen the famous radio show, long popular with listeners. The picture is full of 98 minutes of informal fun divided into two divisions. In one division Gardner (Archie of the radio program) carries on in "Duffy's Tavern" the bumbling career of the barkeep who knows more words than syntax and fires them without aiming. His problem this time is to explain to his boss the absence of funds he has spent in feeding unemployed ex-service men who are waiting for Victor Moore to open a factory they used to work in. He does it, finally, by getting a bunch of Hollywood entertainers (here's where Bing Crosby and the rest of the glamorous cast come in) to stage a block party that makes possible, a little unclearly, but no matter, the re-opening of the factory.

In the other division are Crosby and the others putting on a stage show which couldn't be staged at any block party, but furnishes completely satisfying entertainment on the motion picture screen.

In "Frisco Sal", a musical drama, the setting is Pacific Street on the Barbary Coast in the era of the nineties and it includes several songs and dance routines, spectacular bar room fights, romance and a dash of comedy. Susanna Foster's exquisite voice adds charm to the picture.

The story begins with a demure young girl with a New England background coming to the wild and wicked Barbary Coast in search of her brother, whom she has not seen in 12 years. From there it gets more complicated and never dull. Andy Devine as usual does not disappoint his audience.

Good Home-made Butter

The most important points in obtaining good quality of home-made butter are outlined by Winifred Jecker, home demonstration agent of the local Agricultural Extension Service office.

1. Use sweet cream of good quality or cream that is only slightly sour. Any taint in the milk or cream will, to some extent, be carried into the butter.

2. Use only clean utensils and rinse to be sure there is no soap film on them. Sterilize the utensils with boiling water.

3. Pasteurize the cream for better keeping quality in the butter.

4. Hold the cream at the correct temperature during churning . . . in winter from 58 to 66 degrees, in summer from 52 to 60 degrees.

5. Wash the butter thoroughly after the buttermilk has been drained off.

Winifred Jecker says rural people having family cows will be interested in a circular of the Agricultural Extension Service which further develops the important points in home buttermaking. She says cream purchased in bottles from dairies is too expensive for making butter. The circular, "Home Buttermaking", is available through the Agricultural Extension Service, 201 Post Office Bldg., San Jose, or call Columbia 3866.
